Monthly Factsheet Share Class A

World Winner invests in about fifty international market-leading companies with a contrarian investment approach.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Over the month, World Winners' value climbed +1.8%, while the index fell -1.3%. Since the start of the year, World Winners is up +14.9%, significantly outperforming its index, which has seen growth of just +1.4%.

This strong outperformance reflects our search for good quality companies that are undervalued, with quite high levels of exposure to Asia and China in particular, whereas investors in general were expecting the Chinese bubble to burst. These fears have enabled us to acquire high quality companies for attractive prices in growing sectors. Today, with the upturn in China's economic cycle, awareness is growing that this major country offers vast potential and low valuation levels.

Overall, our companies have reported good half-year earnings, although the impact on stock prices has been limited in Europe, faced with the dollar's rise, but significant in Asia.

For instance, Shiseido, one of our leading investments (5.5 % of your portfolio), saw its shares climb 16% over the month.

The Japanese group, a world leader for cosmetics, is strongly exposed to Asian consumers. For the first half of the year, it reported 17% revenue growth in China - China represents around 15% of total first-half revenues, buoyed by strong levels of interest for Japanese cosmetics among consumers – and 10% in Japan, with its operating profit up 73.9% year-on-year. This growth reflects the restructuring drive led by M. Uotani, the improvements in its global marketing and the continuity with its innovations, further strengthening this sleeping beauty's brand image, which was already at high levels in Asia. This is illustrated by the success of its new anti-wrinkle cream "Elixir", which was introduced in June and sold 680,000 units in its first month.

The Vision 2020 plan, targeting an operating profit of 100 billion yen by 2020, clearly looks credible.

Despite this good start to the year in 2017, there is still a lot of hidden value in good quality contrarian investments, as shown by Shiseido. Only this contrarian approach, away from the main indexes, after years of underperformance and at a time when the consensus is declaring the end of stock picking, can make it possible to capitalise on such opportunities offered by investors' herd behaviour and achieve capital value growth.

We are therefore very confident about your portfolio's potential.
