FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Dear fellow investors,

During March 2019, World Winners gained +0.8% vs +2.7% for its benchmark (MSCI World €).

This underperformance is explained by a 13% drop of its largest position (G4S), a leading security solutions provider. G4S has been in a restructuring phase since the current CEO - Ashley Almanza - was brought in (late 2013), and the market lost confidence in the company following new disappointing results at the bottom line level. However, the EBIT from continuing operations was in line with expectations at 474 million pounds. Significant (and unexpected) charges were recognized again in 2018, that masked the ongoing progress G4S has been delivering so far.

These disappointing results have forced the board to announce drastic corporate actions. G4S is now on the verge of selling its « Cash Solutions » business line (15% sales; 23% PBITA), which will release value and cash (probably more than 1,5 billion pounds vs its current market cap of 3 billion pounds). This will help the group de-leverage its balance sheet entirely and start buying back shares, which are currently trading at very attractive levels (on a dividend yield basis). The good news is that several bidders (private equity funds and corporates) already came out with offers for all or part of this good business, which the board is currently considering. We still see G4S as the global leader (4.7% Global Market Share) in the large (~200 bn$), fragmented (top 5 players having 16.2% of the market) and non-cyclical security market. Through the group's long restructuring plan, it has been able to improve its cash Return on capital employed from 7.2% in 2014 to 12.7% in 2017.

Our Chinese investments are starting to pay-off following a rough 2018: Huazhu (hotel management in China) and JD.Com (e-commerce and logistics in China) delivered good 4Q results and saw their share price rise +21.85% and +10.34% respectively for the month. We believe there is still a lot of un-reflected value in our Chinese investments, and more generally in the World Winners portfolio, even after the nice run we encountered since the beginning of 2019.

Regards,

Team PREVAL
