INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

- Stock-picking based on fundamental analysis (Private Equity approach)
- Focused approach on longstanding knowledge of leading high-quality companies (a reduced selection of approx. 700 companies), undervalued by the market (growth either underestimated or restructuring of a company having undergone a fall in earnings), in order to minimize risk
- Seeking returns over a 3 to 5 year horizon: unconstrained and benchmark agnostic approach
- Build a high-conviction but diversified portfolio (30 to 50 holdings)

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Dear Investors,

Even though the first batch of western companies in our portfolio published good results for the second quarter of the year, your fund has been negatively affected by macro-economic factors.

Covid cases are up again globally, but the main surprise has been the regulatory crackdown of the Chinese Communist Party over its tech champions.

The Nasdaq Golden Dragon China (an index for Chinese companies trading on the US market) was down 22% in July. Given our major exposure to Chinese stocks, your World Winners fund consequently dropped 6.2% on the month vs an uptick of +0.7% for the MSCI ACWI, its benchmark index.

The fear of additional regulations has been exacerbated in July following sanctions on Tencent and Didi (Uber's equivalent in China) and most of all, following harsh measures imposed by the Chinese Government on the companies in the education sector. Going forward, the latter will have to be registered as non-for-profit organizations for a lucrative part of their revenue and can no longer be owned by foreign investors. While we are not exposed to any of the companies mentioned above, the panic effect affected the entire universe of Chinese stocks, including the companies we are invested in. The market is betting that many more Chinese companies will face adverse regulations, which triggered a market-wide selloff through the month.

Chinese authorities reacted promptly to this market phenomenon by confirming that the measure taken solely involved the education sector. On the other hand, the restrictions imposed to regulate China's tech champions are meant to protect consumers and their data in a similar way the Europeans do. At the end of the day, the internet sector is young and lightly regulated in both China and the US.

The first batch of western company earnings were encouraging, with some of them posting numbers above their 2019 level. Our basket of tech companies benefitted from increasing advertising budget allocated online, which is proving to yield superior returns than traditional/offline advertising channels. Twitter, Adevinta and Yandex are a case in point.

In this interesting market environment, we remain vigilant when it comes to company earnings, especially the Asian ones.

We thank you for the trust you have placed in us.

Thierry Flecchia and the team.
