INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

- Stock-picking based on fundamental analysis (Private Equity approach)
- Focused approach on longstanding knowledge of leading high-quality companies (a reduced selection of approx. 700 companies), undervalued by the market (growth either underestimated or restructuring of a company having undergone a fall in earnings), in order to minimize risk
- Seeking returns over a 3 to 5 year horizon: unconstrained and benchmark agnostic approach
- Build a high-conviction but diversified portfolio (30 to 50 holdings)

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Dear Investors,

In January 2021, your World Winners fund posted a positive performance of +0.9%, against a rise of +0.3% in its benchmark index.

The most salient event of the first month of the year was the inauguration of Joe Biden as the 46th president of the United States. Leveraging the full support of both houses of Congress, President Biden is expected to approve an historic, $1,900 billion stimulus plan. This announcement, in line with the measures taken by majority of the world's major economies to curb the impact of the pandemic, is one more step in the same accommodative monetary policy that has been in place since 2008 to counteract the financial crisis. The plan is historic by its size and also because this is the first time since the Second World War that such a plan has been decided in large part by governments rather than by central banks. This has diminished central bank independence somewhat and opened the door to a possible resurgence of inflation.

Meanwhile, we think the emergence of virus variants and delays in vaccination campaigns could create attractive entry points on certain stocks, given that the excellent news about vaccine efficiency puts a return to normal life and a normal economy within reach.

Amid the near-zero or negative fixed-income yields that have resulted from that aggressive, accommodative monetary policy, we think investment in the equity markets is particularly attractive. Active management, i.e. highly-selective stock-picking, is a particularly attractive strategy in the current environment. In contrast to passive investors, we invest in a limited number of companies that create shareholder value, whose valuations we consider to be reasonable to low. We have a strong preference for putting companies in your portfolio that have the pricing power needed to increase prices when their costs increase and thereby guard against the risk of inflationary pressures. This contrasts with index funds that make no qualitative distinctions among companies. Lastly, active management will enable us to take advantage of the opportunities created by volatility, which might remain high in 2021.

We thank you for the trust you have placed in us.
