INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

- Stock-picking based on fundamental analysis (Private Equity approach)
- Focused approach on longstanding knowledge of leading high-quality companies (a reduced selection of approx. 700 companies), undervalued by the market (growth either underestimated or restructuring of a company having undergone a fall in earnings), in order to minimize risk
- Seeking returns over a 3 to 5 year horizon: unconstrained and benchmark agnostic approach
- Build a high-conviction but diversified portfolio (30 to 50 holdings)

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Dear Investors,

During the month of June 2021, your World Winners fund rose by +1.5%, vs a +4.5% increase in the MSCI World ACWI, its benchmark index.

Developed countries continued to relax Covid-19 restrictions, sparking a sharp economic recovery and a rise in prices. Investors' principal concern now is whether this inflation will be transitory or lasting.

Equity markets rose by +5.4% (MSCI World) during the second quarter, while US Treasury bond yields declined by -30 bps, from 1.75% to 1.45%.

The performance of your fund was mainly driven by Twitter (social media – USA), whose share price increased by +22.3% during the month. We became interested in Twitter in the midst of the Covid crisis when we saw the sharp rise in the number of users, owing to the efforts of Jack Dorsey (Twitter's CEO) and his staff, who have always put content quality ahead of monetization. We think Twitter is approaching an inflection point after several years of work reorganising the platform which will enable the group to generate more and more shareholder value in the coming years. As Twitter is an interface allowing users to discover and exchange ideas, the network can continue to grow without ramping up the expenses used to attract new members. With corporate advertising budgets increasingly allocated to digital platforms, and Twitter working on new cash generation vectors (recurrent subscriptions, etc.), the group's profitability should continue to improve.

On the downside, mining companies weighted on the fund's performance. The share prices of Freeport-McMoRan (mining – USA), Barrick Gold (mining – Canada) and Newmont (mining – USA) declined by -13.3%, -11.4% and -10.4%, respectively, in June. Chinese authorities decided to draw on their strategic metal reserves to supply local industrial companies, leading to a decline in these stock prices during the month.

The economic recovery coupled with moderate inflationary pressures, in a low interest rates environment, should be supportive of the companies in your fund. We are approaching the second quarter earnings season with confidence, as the leading companies we hold have emerged stronger from the Covid-19 crisis.

We thank you for the trust you have placed in us.
